

LEFTOVER FOOD POLICY

Policy

University of Mary Dining Services is bound to follow the practice of Chartwells and Compass Group, USA regarding food leftover at catered events, as follows:

We believe in guaranteeing that our client will not run out of food assuming that their contracted guest count is similar to their guest turnout. In an effort to maintain this guarantee, there should be some food that has not been consumed at the end of every event.

For the health and safety of our clients, it is Chartwells policy that all leftover food remains the property of the caterer and cannot be removed from the catered event space by the client.

This policy is intended to limit the risk of food borne illness due to improper handling or storage of leftover food items. All leftover food and drink will be disposed of or distributed to food banks appropriately by University of Mary Catering staff at the conclusion of the event.

Approved

14 December 2022 by the President's Council